Board Trustees Show Progressive Spirit

The meeting of the board of trustees on Tuesday night was well attended.

A friendly harmonious spirit of "let's get together and talk matters over" prevailed among trustees and property holders.

Matters under discussion were a report of the plans of Carmel's volunteer fire department, made by J. E. Nichols; a report of the garbage situation from Trustee Kibbler, and a tentative plan for street repairs from Perry Newberry, president of the board.

In regard to the storm drainage petition, it was stated that at the next meeting of the trustees City Engineer H. D. Severance would report progress with plans and specifications.

Trustee W. L. Maxwell, street commissioner, introduced a plan for a culvert on North Carmelo at Fourth avenue, the necessity of which is unquestionable. The estimated expense of thirty feet of 36 inch iron culvert properly put in is approximately $400. Decision was deferred to the next meeting of the trustees.

Temporary arrangements are to be made for disposing of the garbage. It was stated that the garbage matter is among the most difficult problems to be settled now, and Trustee Kibbler asked for a little more time in the matter.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare a call for bids for a triple combination booster pump as per specifications given him by the chief of the fire department.

The matter of appointing an inspector for Ocean avenue paving was referred to the commissioner of streets for investigation. Only one application for this position has as yet been received—that of H. W. Askew.

Marshal Englund was granted a two-weeks' vacation. When the question of a substitute marshal arose, Mr. Englund generously assured the board that he would take his vacation in Carmel. Thus reassured, the trustees unanimously voted for the vacation.

Twenty-five of the Newbegin fire extinguishers were ordered for the city. Mr. Newberry expressed the hope that many property holders would follow the example of the board and place fire extinguishers in their homes.

Month-End One-Acts

The Arts and Crafts little theater has completed plans for its first presentation of a monthly series of one-act plays.

Friday and Saturday evenings, October 27th and 28th are the dates selected.

An unusually attractive group of plays has been prepared, as follows:

"The Dark Lady of the Sonnets," written by Bernard Shaw, will be produced by Herbert Heron.

"A Night at an Inn," written by Lord Dunsany, will be produced by John Northern Hillard.

"The Ranch House," written by Ira M. Remsen, will be produced by the author.

There are none of these plays but what have a "kick" in them and people who are not interested in one, will be anxious to see the others.

What the Citizens' Committee Wants

On Friday evening, September 29th, at a meeting of the Property Holders' Committee the following matters of interest to the community were discussed.

The question of fire protection as presented at the firemen's meeting Thursday night. The volunteer fire department of Carmel asked for an adequate fire truck with pump and hose in addition to chemical apparatus. The expenses of such a truck was said to be in the neighborhood of $3500. H. D. Comings offered to house and care for the truck free of charge, and C. O. Goold offered to buy all the gasoline for its use for ten years, providing the truck chosen answered the requirements stated by the firemen. This good news was the first matter discussed by the committee and the good judgment of the firemen and the generous offers of Mr. Comings and Mr. Goold were unanimously approved.

Next came a discussion of Tuesday night's board meeting and more especially the question of the proposed sewer for Dolores street. It was noted that Attorney H. G. Jorgensen's appeal to the city trustees to interest themselves in this matter on behalf of those who had signed the petition for the sewer, and his statement that it is admissible and perfectly possible for the board of trustees to take this petition up in conjunction with the sanitary board, resulted in a request from Mr. Newberry that the sanitary board take the matter under consideration with the city attorney, and later, if they so desired, bring the petition before the board of trustees. The hope was expressed by the citizens' committee that the Dolores sewer will speedily go in, and that action will presently be taken to relieve the unsanitary conditions in other thickly settled parts of Carmel. A sewer is needed on Lincoln street, on Casanova, and El Camino Real. A large number of property holders on these streets are anxious to sign up for these improvements. In spite of the unfortunate division of responsibility in the matter of sewers between the sanitary board and the board of trustees, much may be done by hearty co-operation of both boards in relieving the present unsatisfactory drainage conditions. Should they fail to co-operate, the committee is advised by counsel that the state sanitary law may be invoked; this, however, should be considered only as a last resort; for a city that must invoke a state law to get sanitation is certainly in a bad way at home, and Carmel is fast waking up to the necessity of good sewerage.

The last matter discussed by the committee was Perry Newberry's statement in last week's Pine Cone. The committee wishes to again make clear that it is not quarrelling with the personnel of the present board of trustees. They were elected by the people to carry out the wishes of the majority and we are all willing to abide by that election. Through several unfortunate acts of the board the legal status of one member is in question. That question, in the opinion of the committee, should be settled by the board itself; by the holding of a special election. Mr. Newberry disagrees with this. The future alone can show which point of view is safest for Carmel. The responsibility for this state of affairs rests with the board of trustees.

We learn from Mr. Newberry's statement that had the fire bonds carried we should have had fire protection this summer. Some of us knew that all the time. He was the one who thought we could have fire protection otherwise, and he was the man who most determinedly fought the bonds. Howevre, better late than never; three cheers for the fire-truck now under consideration!

The question of road repairs is, in the opinion of the committee, imperative. Even a special assessment would be better than the present risk of life and limb on Carmel roads! The board, it seems, saw no way of getting the work done this summer on account of the exhausted condition of the city funds. There was a dead horse to pay for, we are told. He was an expensive horse after he ran amuck of some technicalities and died in a lawsuit which Mr. Newberry helped to instigate.

The city clerk, who is also our assessor, has come to the rescue at last. Without any aid from the board, if we understand Mr. Newberry, she has raised the assessment on certain properties and has thus increased the taxes. So perhaps now the city can repair the roads.

One awful thought disturbs the citizens' committee. Perhaps there won't be enough money even now, without the fire bonds! Well, if that should prove to be the case, we will all take off our coats and hats and help Mr. Newberry put the fire bonds through! In a few days it will be legally possible to consider the fire bond question all over again, and if the board lacks money for a proper equipment the committee promises loyal support for a fire bond campaign.

It is stated that the board of trustees was balked by G. M. Dorwart in its attempt to pave roads. No protest was raised against the paving of the roads. Mr. Dorwart, and many other property holders, object to having the roads put in without proper provision for storm drainage.

Mr. Newberry has expressed the hope that he will not be blamed for the additional assessment which must be made to complete the expense of Ocean avenue. He will "smile and pay," although he did not want the street paved with concrete. Well, we will smile harder, and some of us will pay more; but then, we wanted the street and we are tremendously glad to see it going down.

There was no talk of a recall, nor of court action, at the meeting of the committee. What the committee wants is to help the trustees to carry out the promises made to the voters and property holders of Carmel who elected them last April.

And in the words of Mr. Newberry's own ticket—"To plan now for Carmel's future growth; a consistent policy of sewers, surface drainage, roads and fire protection that may be carried out through the years."

To Celebrate Road Work Beginning

Down at the Big Sur it is expected that the dirt will begin to fly on the Carmel-San Simeon highway within ten days. This information is vouchsafed by the contractor, whose bid to construct thirteen miles of road to the south of Big Sur was recently accepted by the State Highway Commission. Fifteen months is the time allowed to complete the work.

Grading equipment, camp outfits and food hauling have been passing through Carmel all this week. When the work gets well under way, it will be a frequent occurance to see a procession of trunks going to and from the camp, and Carmel merchants will no doubt have an opportunity to furnish some of the supplies. Our city is the first port of call between the Big Sur and Monterey.

A big affair to celebrate the beginning of the work will be held on Sunday, October 15th at Big Sur. Everybody is invited.

Nancie and Hal Run Into Shower

There arrived in Carmel this week George B. Daniels, Chicago lumber operator, and his daughter, Miss Camilla. They came west to be present at the marriage of Miss Nancie C. Daniels and Harold D. Bragg, which takes place this month.

Over on the Eighty-Acre Tract, in a picturesque little dell, there is growing up a wonderful little nest, where the couple will reside.

A jolly group of invited guests gathered at the Overstreet residence last Saturday night for a pre-nuptial party. A shower of gifts were presented to Nancy and Hal, many of which will find a conspicuous niche in the new home. Dancing and refreshments were also on the eveuing's program.

Those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Argyll Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Schlosser, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Swain, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Seideneck, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Leland, Mesdames Lottie Shipley, Daisy Bostick, Genevieve Daniel, Hilda Argo, Misses Irene Alexander, Geane Hanson, Tillie Polak, Marian Daniels, Messrs. Barney Siegel, H E. Nye, Gerald Morrow, P. J. Gartland, Thos G. Fisher, Arthur Shand and Herbert Heron.

Pebble Beach News

Pebble Beach, Carmel's neighboring home settlement, pitcturesquely located in Del Monte Forest overlooking the Bay of Carmel, promises to be interesting during the fall months. Many of the residents will keep their homes open to enjoy the delightful weather and the out-of-door pleasures that are afforded.

Mrs. Mary Judge Fatjo, who has been occupying the Moore house for the past month, will take the Ruhl house and intends spending a year here. Mrs. Fatjo has been entertaining Miss Madeline Sisson, daughter of Mrs. Albert Sisson of San Francisco, as a house-guest. Ford, father of Mrs. Morse and Byington Ford, is now visiting at Del Monte Lodge. The Fords will soon occupy their new home, which faces the first green of the golf course. OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Material Should Contain at Least 30 Per Cent of Butter Fat and Kept Very Cold.

The best cream to whip is good, rich, raw cream, from 24 to 48 hours old, says the United States Department of Agriculture. It should contain at least 30 per cent butter fat to produce ideal results, and be kept very cold. Pasteurization tends to lower the whipping quality of the cream, and homogenization is very harmful to it. Combined they practically destroy the value of cream for whipping.

Strips Are of Some Value in Destroying Pests That Have Gained Access to House.

Sticky fly papers are of some value in destroying flies that have gained access to houses, but they have marked limitations and numerous objectionable features. For use out of doors traps are much more effective and economical.

The following method of preparing fly paper is given in Farmers' Bulletin 734 recently reissued by the United States Department of Agriculture:

"Take two pounds of rosin and one pint of castor oil, heat together until it looks like molasses. Take an ordinary paint brush and smear while hot on any kind of paper—an old newspaper is good—and place several about the room. A dozen of these may be made at a cost of one cent."

Mrs. Byola Murphy and daughter, Mrs. S. S Page, who were the guests of Mrs. Maude Arndt, have returned to Oakland.

Mrs. Murphy is the president of the League of the Women of '63 in Oakland. The members of this organization are all over 74 years of age, some of them 82 and 83, and they are active workers in all charitable and civic work. They recently raised several thousand dollars for a Lincoln monument which stands today in the Oakland Civic Center.

When John Drinkwater's play, "Abraham Lincoln" was on the Coast, these ladies entertained Frank McGlynn, who played the title role. He was in costume and the entertainment furnished him was in keeping with his part.

There are about 65 members of the League and they have their own club rooms and are active in all movements that make for modern progress.

Mrs. Page is directly from New York, but has spent most of her time abroad. Both are charming cultured women and while here became very popular with Mrs. Arndt's friends. The latter gave several social functions in their honor.

Ira "Inchling" Remsen has returned to Carmel for an indefinite stay. Ira beat it for San Francisco the day after the Sphinx meandered down town. He did not remain long in the big city—got lonesome. His next move was to board a train for Topeka, Kansas, and on Monday, September 25, he was married to Miss Helen Armstrong Yoder. Mrs. Remsen is here with him. She is a talented and attractive young woman, having accomplished things in drama, art and literature.

After a six-months' stay in Tahiti, William Ritschel, the noted artist, is to return to Carmel and the Highlands. He arrived in San Francisco last Sunday. Located on an island several miles from Tahiti, Ritschel improved the daylight hours without social interruptions and has brought back some wonderfully colorful pictures.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS

REVIEW OF BOOKS IN CARMEL LIBRARY

By Ann Burroughs

LIGHT ESSAYS ON LIFE—FRANCES AND GERTRUDE WARNER

Frances Warner is an essayist of ability and delight, an even writer, and a helpmade to his reader. But Gertrude Warner is decidedly inferior. Her high spots have charm and wistfulness and humor, but they are too infrequent peaks above a dullish level. In consequence, the volume of collaboration, "Life's Minor Collisions," is, on the whole, rather exasperating for its shortcomings than pleasing for its fair and even numerous virtues.

Its eleven essays are quite worth reading, however. The first alone would justify the other ten. And many of them reflect a charming and wholesome and happy family life which puts to shame such papier-mache groups as haunt the heroic Tarkington adolescents. And the Warners align themselves with the best that is thought and said in America, so we should find a duty, I suppose, as well as a pleasure in reading them. But, I trust that the next work done by them will be placed in separate volumes, as were their first two literary offerings, so that we may choose our favorite and have him whole.

A NEW PLAY BY DUNSANY

Dunsany's "If" is amusing and trivial. If you could alter any one act in your life, what would happen? Why, the slip of one cog in the machinery of your existence, say ten years ago, would revolutionize the entire pattern of your life perhaps. And, had just one act been different, you might be a multi-millionaire now or a beggar, an artist of international fame or a long lamented maiden sister or bachelor brother instead of the eager citizen of famous Carmel that you are.

Dunsany's hero is a respectable, well-enough-off partner of a small London firm who jogs peaceably enough through life in a suburban villa with his respectable but most trivial wife and equally respectable but trivial children.

But had the hero caught a train which he missed ten years before, he might have—but thereby hangs the fantastic Arabian Nights tale, of the play, done in Dunsany's no longer fresh but still amusing fashion and filled with the coloor of Asiatic life on the border or in the center of which the scene of the play is laid.

Joy has not faded from Dunsany's plays when he can employ as chaperons for a young woman quite alone in this Orient two enormous Nubians who "are not men," milord, named Bazzolol and Thoothoobaba.

A HEALTH LESSON FROM NATURE

NATURE IS PERFECTION, and works in many peculiar ways to attain it. Unless perverted by accidental conditions it does attain a high standard of perfection. In man this means health.

What causes disease? It must be an interference. Sever the roots of a tree and it will slowly starve and die, because the sap is shut off. Man's life force may be likened to the sap of the tree. If the nerve cables are compressed where they branch from the backbone, due to one of the vertebrae slipping out of place, the life power is shut off and disease sets in, in those organs that should be fed through the nerves. This injury can be corrected and healthy conditions restored by CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS.

AID TO VETERANS

No measures upon the ballot at the coming election deserves greater popular consideration than those covering State aid to veterans.

They will appear as Measures No. 1 and No. 3.

The first is a validating act which assures constitutionality to the bond issue and its purposes. The third provides for the bond issue, in a sum of ten million dollars, to provide for the purchase of homes or farms for every veteran of California who seeks to avail himself of its provisions.

These measures, combined, are sometimes referred to as "bonus" legislation.

They are nothing of the sort.

They do not constitute a gift to veterans, in any sense of the word. They are a loan. The State gives nothing; it lends.

The veterans who take advantage of these measures, if they shall be passed—as, without a doubt, they will be—will mortgage himself to the State over a long term of years. He will pay back, with interest, every cent advanced him for the purpose of purchasing for him a home or farm. Meanwhile, the State holds the real property as security.

REFORISTIZATION NECESSARY

If the food consumed by each man, woman and child were reduced by one-third, the pinch of hunger would soon be felt and the cry of famine would undoubtedly be raised. Yet substitute the word "wood" for "food" and you have exactly what has happened in the use of lumber; for the per capita consumption has dropped from 500 board feet in 1906 to 316 board feet in 1920, says the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

This decreasing use of a fundamental commodity, according to forest experts, is not a result of decreasing needs but a result of forest exhaustion. It is not bein gaccomplished without economic hardship or without curtailment of industrial expansion. It is not a temporary condition that will automatically adjust itself, for even at this reduced rate of consumption we are still cutting our forest more than four times as fast as they grow. The situation that proclaims, according to the Forest Service, that if we are to remain a nation of timber users, we must become a nation of timber growers.

Missiontown Players Next Thursday Eve.

Next Thursday night, at Manzanita Hall, the Carmel winter season of plays opens. David Gally and his Missiontown Players will put on three splendid one-act plays not heretofore seen here. They are:

"Fancy Free," by Douglas Houghton

"The Tenor," by Frank Wedekind.

"The Baby Carriage," by Bosworth Crocker.

In the company are David Gally himself, an actor and producer of experience, Geane Hauson, university girl, whom we saw in "Cesar and Cleopatra;" Owen White, who has appeared here in one act plays and at the Forest Theater, and Miss Gwynn Worden, who has ability and promise.

One reason why there should be a crowded house to witness these plays is the fact that half of the net receipts are to be donated to the local soldier memorial fund.

Tickets are on sale at the Palace Drug Store here, at Monterey and at Del Monte.

May Duplicate Los Angeles Musical Hits

Alfred Hertz has emerged triumphant in his musical Los Angeles experiment. His symphony concerts in the Hollywood Bowl began with an audience of 3000 and finished with 15000 at the last three concerts. According to the San Francisco Chronicle, they "started without any financial backing except the fund of $30,000 raised by the sale of season tickets. And they emerged from the sea of trouble, so coldly familiar to symphony managers, with all obligations cancelled and a surplus of $5,000."

It is to be hoped that our progressive Peninsula Herald editor, R. A. Griffin, in his courageous attempt to bring to this section a few of the world renowned artists during the coming winter will be equally successful in anticipating the feeling of the community. It is really up to the people to take hold of this project and give of their time, energy and money, so that the close of the season will find it no longer an experiment but a surety.

The Monterey Theater is being renovated and everything that makes for comfort is being added to its equipment including a first class heating plant. The opening concert is to be given by Florence Macbeth on October 24. Free bus service will be given the residents of Carmel.

Carmel Humane Society Reorganized

The humane Society of Carmel-by-the-Sea met at the Pine Inn on Friday afternoon, the thirtieth of September, to consider plans for its reorganization under a charter which will empower its members to act authoritively as may be required. In the absence of its president, Miss Eunice Gray, the treasurer, Miss Alice McChesney was in the chair. Appreciation was expressed for the work which Miss Gray did among the school children last spring, and Carmel remembers the posters which attracted so much attention during "Kindness to animals week." It is to Miss Gray that the credit is due for the pioneer work of the Society in Carmel, and her absence is regretted. Miss Louise Conger was elected vice-president to officiate in her absence, Mrs. M. T. Brewer Secretary and Miss McChesney was re-elected Tresurer.

Five new members were added to the roll, making twenty in all, and it is earnestly hoped that more will follow. The fee is only a dollar a year. The more members, the more dollars. No society can thrive—and do business—on starvation wages no matter how sincere its members may be, but whether members or not, it is hoped that all animal lovers in Carmel will render assistance in the care of the waifs and strays among our animals. This will be the first work undertaken by the society. Hereafter meetings will be held through the courtesy of Mrs. Jordan in Pine Inn on the second and fourth Fridays of the month.

M. T. BREWER, Secretary.

Intetesting Comparisons

Under the heading of "'Two Americas" the Literary Review makes an interesting comparison of two novels that have appeared this month. It says: that they "have an interest quite independent of their excellence as narrative. Sinclair Lewis's "Babbitt' and Willa Cather's 'One of Ours' exhibits the American as he sees himself in our time. Both books deal with that most American of America, the Middle West. Both books eschew romance and sentimentalism. The two heroes, the Babbit of Lewis and the Claude Wheeler of Miss Cather, are as different in mental fibre and in temperament as human nature allows, their stories are utterly different, and yet a spiritual discontent is the final quality that one remembers of each of them, and this discontent, so the authors seem to feel, is characteristic of America."

Popular Singer in Concert

Miss Doria Fernanda, otherwise known as Fernanda Pratt, and a recent visitor in Carmel, gave a concert in San Francisco recently at the Hotel St. Francis in the Colonial ballroom. Before forsaking society for the musical world, she was one of the most popular girls in the Bay region. She will sing this evening at the Fairmont at the concert given by the Pacific Musical society.

It is difficult for us to realize the honors accorded Miss Pratt while she was on tour in the City of Mexico. One of the many colorful incidents was the strewing of flowers over the streets through which she passed by the enthusiastic and emotional people.

A Timely Suggestion

A colossal statue of a Franciscan father which would eclipse the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor is to be erected on Yerba Buena Island, facing the Golden Gate, if the proposal of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce carries. It is believed that such a statue, built by small popular subscriptions, would dominate the imagination of every person in the San Francisco Bay region and invest the bay itself with an outstanding characteristic.—Exchange.

New Dramatic Organization

The San Francisco Stage Guild starts its season of repertoire with Zona Gale's "Miss Lulu Bett." The season will run twelve weeks under the management of Sam Hume of the University of California and Jessica Colbert. "Enter Madame" by Gilda Veresi is one of the plays selected. Members of the "Reading Circle" of Carmel will remember this play as read some time ago by John Hilliard at one of their meetings.

Davis and Seib Touring

Gordon Davis and Lester Seib, of Carmel and Stanford are touring the Orient with the T. Daniel Frawley Co. and are playing now in Honolulu to crowded houses. Seib is playing leading roles and Davis is directing. The latter is the Stanford Dramatic coach and has been granted a leave of absence to take this tour and incidentally bring back new ideas for his work on the campus.

News of the Roses

Ethel Rose, frequent Carmel visitor, has an article on "Coarse Fishing in France" in this month's Scribner's. The article is beautifully illustrated by A. B. Frost and her husband, Guy Rose, whose paintings of Carmel views will be remembered by those who have visited various art exhibits here. Mr. Rose has until lately been the director of the Stickney Memorial School of Art in Pasadena. He succeeded William Townsley, who conducted a summer school here for the Arts and Crafts two successive seasons.

Hoosier Poet's Birthday Today

This is "Riley Day," and in Indiana, where James Whitcomb Riley was born on October 7, 1849, his birthday is always a big holiday. In the schools throughout the country the works of the "Childrens' Poet" are recited and sung.

Nor was the day forgotten in Carmel. Yesterday afternoon in Sunset school an hour was given over to the telling of incidents in Riley's life, the reciting of his poems and the singing of his works which have been set to music.

THE ONLY ISSUE

A Square Deal Is All the Osteopathic Physicians Ask of Voters.

The one and only issue before the voters in initiative Number 20—"Osteopathic Act" is—Shall the existing good examining and licensing law, which requires exactly the same education and state examination for Osteopaths and medical doctors, be administered with equal fairness to both systems.

This licensing law was enacted by the legislature in the interest of the people of California. It provides for the examination of applicants for licenses and for the issuance of state certificates of competency to those who present evidence that they have had the required nine years of education and who pass the examination specified in the law.

The administration of this law is now in the hands of a board composed of eight medical doctors and two Osteopaths. A prominent citizen asks the question: "Why can't the Osteopaths obtain relief from the present unfair administration of this law by changing the members of the present examining board?" The reply: They could, provided the legislature would pass an act requiring the Governor to appoint eight Osteopaths and two medical doctors on this board. He replied: "That would place the drug doctors in the power of the Osteopaths." This is true, and any citizen who can think the thought that this would not be wise or fair, cannot fail to think the reverse that it is not wise or fair to leave the Osteopaths in their power.

No other system is affected by this act, and it in no way changes any health law. This act does not alter the power or jurisdiction of the State Board of Health and it is not opposed by this board.

Number "20" provides simply and only that the Governor, and a board of Osteopaths selected by him, shall administer the existing examining and licensing law for Osteopaths. This board must operate without expense to the tax-payers.

It has been proved in the courts of California that the education of the Osteopath equals, if not exceeds, that of any other class of practitioners. Since 1917 they have passed the same state examination in every medical and surgical subject that other physicians have passed.

Administrative fairness is the only issue. Vote "Yes" if you think the bill meritorious.

Carmelites Attend Red Cross Session

The American Red Cross regional conference was held in Watsonville last week and was attended by Doctor Charles A. McCollom, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Beardsley, Mrs. Eva K. de Sabla and H. S. Nye from Carmel. This is the fifth conference in a series that is being arranged by Col. George Filmer, manager of the Pacific Division of the American Red Cross, to precede this year's roll call, November 11-30, and sixteen chapters, from San Mateo to San Luis Obispo are sending representatives.

The outstanding feature was the time assigned to a study of the problems, chapters face in their service to ex-service men and their dependents.

The discussion of chapter organization and finance were incorporated in the afternoon session.

"Chapter Responsibility for Public Health Education was the subject upon which Dr. G. P. Tolman and Miss Alice J. Letes, R. N., of Watsonville, and Mrs. Hattie Bacon of San Jose, will Miss Hattie Bacon of San Jose spoke.

Active plans for the conference had been stimulated by Miss Elizabeth Porter, representative from the Pacific Division office in San Francisco in chapters she has visited in the district. She has arranged an exhibit of posters, and other material which chapters can secure for local fairs and conventions.
